Where it Never Rains.

In Peru, South America, rain is unknown. The coast of Peru is within the region of perpetual southeast tradewinds, and though the Peruvian shores are on the verge of the great southeast boiler, yet it never rains there. The reason is plain. The southeast tradewinds in the Atlantic Ocean first strike the water on the coast of Africa. Traveling to the northwest, they blow obliquely across the ocean until they reach the coast of Brazil. By this time they are laden with vapor, which they continue to bear along across the continent, depositing it as they go, and supplying with it the sources of the Rio de la Plata and the southern tributaries of the Amazon. Finally they reach the snow-capped Andes; here is wrung from them the last particle of moisture that a very low temperature can attract. Reaching the summit of that region, they now tumble down as cold and dry winds on the Pacific slope beyond. Meeting with no evaporating surface, and no temperature colder than that to which they were subjected on the mountain tops, they reach the ocean. Thus we see the tops of the Andes become the reservoir from which are supplied the rivers of Chili and Peru.

Set up Your Bar at Home.

C. T. Campbell's Lecture in Maysville, Ky.

Barkeepers in this city pay on an average $2 per gallon for whisky. One gallon contains an average of 65 drinks, and and at ten cents a drink the poor man pays $6.50 per gallon for his whisky. In other words, he pays $2 for the whisky and $4.50 to a man for handing it over the bar. Make your wife your barkeeper. Lend her $2 to buy a gallon of whisky for a beginning, and every time you want a drink go to her and pay ten cents for it. By the time you have drank a gallon she will have $6.50, or enough money to refund the $2 borrowed of you, to pay for another gallon of liquor, and have a balance of $2.50. She will be able to conduct future operations on her own capital, and when you become an inebriate, unable to support yourself, shunned and despised by all respectable persons, your wife will have enough money to keep you until you get ready to fill a drunkard's grave.

Hog Cholera Remedy.

The Lewistown, Ill., Gazette furnishes the latest infallible remedy for hog cholera, as follows:

Every paper in the United States ought occasionally to keep the fact before its readers that burnt corn is a certain and speedy cure for hog cholera. The best way is to make a pile of corn on the cobs, effectually scorch it, and then give the affected hogs free access to it. This remedy was discovered by E. E. Locke, Esq., at the time his distillery was burnt in this county, together with a large lot of store corn, which was so much injured as to be unfit for use, and was hauled out and greedily eaten by the hogs, several of which were dying daily. After the second day not a single hog was lost and the disease entirely disappeared. The remedy has been tried in a number of cases since, and never failed.

GIRLS, TRY IT.—Girls, if you want to encourage young men, get an album. Its the first thing a bashful young man grabs when he enters a strange house where there are girls. We've seen them look through one until they knew every picture by heart, from page one to General Grant in the back part. It's wonderful what interest a bashful man will take in a girl's grandmother and pug-nosed uncle at the first visit, but it's always so. Get 'em girls. It's the best thing in the world to occupy a fellow's hands, and it's a sure cure for bashfulness.

A Dangerous Torpor.

Torpor or inactivity of the kidneys is seriously dangerous to those organs, since it is the precedent of diseases which destroy their substance and endanger life. This sluggishness may be overcome by stimulating them, not excessively, but moderately, an effect produced by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a general invigorant and alterative, possessing diuretic properties of no common order. The impetus which this admirable medicine gives to their evacuative function counteracts any tendency to congestion which may exist in their tissues. Both they and their associate organ, the bladder, are invigorated as well as gently stimulated by the Bitters, which exerts a kindred influence upon the stomach, liver and bowels, and by strengthening the system, enables it to withstand malarial epidemics, to which, when exposed it might otherwise succumb. CURE YOURSELF!

Dr. Bohannan's "Vegetable Curative" is warranted to permanently cure all forms of Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness, General Debility, Impotency, etc., and restores "Lost Power," and brings back the "Youthful Vigor" of those who have destroyed it by sexual excesses or evil practices, in from two to seven weeks' time. This remedy, which has been used by Dr. Bohannan in his private practice for over thirty years, was never known to fail in curing even the WORST CASES. It gives vitality and imparts energy with wonderful effect to those middle aged men who feel a weakness beyond their years. Its invigorating properties are felt at once. Young men suffering from the consequences of that dreadfully destructive habit of Self-Abuse can use this medicine with the assurance of a speedy and PERMANENT cure. The patient gains strength and elasticity of spirits at once, as it acts directly on the parts affected, as a soothing and healing tonic and anodyne to the relaxed seminal vesicles and irritated ducts, imparting power and tone and restoring them to their natural state, the same as if the baneful habit had never been indulged in. The ingredients are simple productions of nature—barks, roots, herbs, etc., and are a specific for the above diseases.

Price, Five Dollars, sent with full directions, etc to any address. For sale only at Dr. C. A. Bohannan's office, No. 6½ North Fifth street, between Washington Ave. and Green st., St. Louis, Mo. Established in 1847.

To prove that OUR STOCK IS THE LARGEST OF ANY CLOTHING HOUSE, it needs but a comparison; that OUR PRICES ARE THE LOWEST IN THE TOWN, is proved by our immense and constantly improving trade; that OUR COMPETITORS GROW SICK, is demonstrated by their effort of catching trade by misrepresentation. The Daily Republican.

C. E. HAMSHER, I. N. MOSSER.

HAMSHER & MOSSER PUBLISHERS.

DECATUR, ILLINOIS.

THURSDAY EVENING, JAN. 23, 1879.

THE joint session of the Illinois Legislature convened at noon yesterday, and the result of the senatorial election was proclaimed, after which Senator Logan made a brief speech, returning his thanks. The Legislature has adjourned until Tuesday of next week.

AS A FITTING finale to the Senatorial struggle the citizens of Springfield last night gave a grand party at the Leland Hotel, to enable the members of the Legislature and others an opportunity to pay their respects to Mrs. and Gen. John A. Logan. The clever proprietors of the hotel, Messrs. Leland & Wiggins, spread tables for the accommodation of some 400 people, a string band was on hand, and after the pious old folks got out of the way the worldly young people shook their joyous feet until a very late hour. The affair is said to have been a very pleasant one.

NOBODY in Maine seems to be entirely satisfied with the result of the Gubernatorial election in that State. The Republican candidate had the largest popular vote, but the Democrats and Greenbackers in the House in order to snub the Republicans, voted to send the names of the Democratic and Greenback candidates to the Senate. The Republicans in the Senate paid off the Greenbackers by electing the Democratic candidate, and the new Governor in his inaugural message, still further snubbed the Greenbackers by coming out squarely in favor of hard money. The Greenbackers are now asking themselves what they have gained by their coalition with the Democrats.

THE election of Matt. H. Carpenter yesterday, as senator from Wisconsin, illustrates one of the curiosities of politics. Mr. Carpenter was left out of the senate four years ago, a fusion of Democrats and disaffected Republicans unting on Angus Cameron. Since then Mr. Carpenter has taken but little part in politics, and when he decided to enter the contest this time it was not thought possible that he could be successful. The little fight between Howe and Keyes, however, fixed a place for the brilliant Matt., and after a struggle lasting a week, in which the forces of the three candidates were nearly equal, he finally carried off a nomination by acclamation, and an election besides, all in one day. Mr. Carpenter can hardly be said to represent the better element of Republicanism in the Badger state, but he is a brilliant man, and probably has no peer in the Senate, in point of ability.

RIDDLE'S EXPLANATION.

Considerable surprise has been manifested over the conduct of Senator Riddle, who, after announcing in the Republican caucus that he would not vote for John A. Logan for Senator, did that very thing. When his name was called on Tuesday, on the occasion of the Senatorial election, Mr. Riddle rose and said:

MR PRESIDENT I rise to a question of privilege in relation to my vote on this question. My vote upon this question is one of the most unpleasant duties of my official life. I differ from the majority of my brethren on this floor on their nomination for the office of Senator in the Congress of the United States. I tried so far as I could to prevent this nomination It was made against my protest and against my judgment. But, Mr. President, I stand here representing a Republican constituency Gen. Logan is the candidate of the Republican party to which I belong. I stand here representing a constituency that expect that in all political questions I shall cast my vote in the line of my party. I do not share Mr President, in the belief that Gen Logan is the choice of the majority of the Republicans of the State of Illinois. I do not believe he is the choice of the best men of the party in this State. I do not believe that he represents the grand ideas that have come down to us of the character of the men who should represent a State like Illinois in the Senate of the United States. My constituents do not believe that the Senate of the United States is a fit arena for the exhibition of gladiatorial skill, or any exhibition of physical prowess I represent a commercial constituency devoted to the arts of peace They have expected that the Legislature of Illinois would send to the Senate of the United States a man of calm judgment, who could sit in wise deliberation with men whose wisdom, experiences, and character should make them peers of the best men in the nation. But, Mr. President, I am loyal to the Republican party—[applause]—and if any act of mine may have caused a criticism of my conduct, it has not been for a want of fidelity to the principles of that party I believe the nomination of Gen. Logan is a misfortune, and that it involves injustice and ingratitude. No party can say to a well-tried and faithful servant like Gov Oglesby, whose public career has been such as to call for no apology for any of his acts, to an old and valued friend of his party, that he shall be sacrificed for the purpose of giving place to one who had been an old and bitter enemy. The indignity put upon Gov. Oglesby by the Republican members of the Legislature is a political outrage that cannot well be palliated or excused. If the Republican party of the State of Illinois can outlive this act of political injustice I can tolerate it, and in casting my vote for a choice for Senator I cast it for the Republican party, but not because its nomination for Senator commends itself to my judgment or respect.

In the House, Mr. Harts, of Logan, who had been one of Oglesby's warmest supporters, when his name was called said:

Mr. Speaker, in compliance with the rulings of the majority of the representatives of the Republican party, it becomes my duty to vote for Gen. John A. Logan for United States Senator. While I feel that political honor binds me to respect the vote of the majority, yet I also feel that my sense of political policy and justice protests against this vote. But, in consideration of his military service and the choice of the Republican representatives bestowed upon him, I vote for Gen. John A. Logan.

The Appellate Courts of Illinois.

From the Chicago Legal News.

The docket of the Supreme Court at Springfield, for the January term, contained only seventy-five cases, not including petitions for rehearing. This is far below the usual number, but it may be accounted for when we take into consideration the fact that the Appellate Courts have been in operation only a little over a year, and the cases that go through the Appellate Courts to the Supreme Court have only just commenced to reach that tribunal. Those cases that have been reversed and remanded by the Appellate Courts are, for the most part, still pending in the courts below. The bankrupt law had driven nearly all the collection litigation out of the State courts, and now that it is repealed, attachment and replevin suits are being brought, and creditors' bills filed in the State courts. This class of business will greatly increase in the near future, and the Legislature, should they amend the laws relating to the jurisdiction of our courts, ought not to lose sight of this fact. There is no danger but the Supreme Court will have all it can do. It would be well to so amend the statute as to make the judgments of the Appellate Courts, under $1,500, final in all cases where the constitution will allow it to be done.

Something Wonderful.

A good deal of fun is poked at "our climate," but it is only fun, for even the "pokers" know that there is not another in the world so remarkable. Situated in a latitude but a few degrees south of New York, we may naturally claim that to be a wonderful climate where such remarkable things are constantly occurring as in the following statement, clipped from the Santa Cruz Courier: "We have been presented with one-half of a ripe watermelon grown on the ranch of C. H. Humes, near Aptos. It is fully ripe, of good taste and was picked from the vine on Monday last. Mr. Hume informs us that he has also on his ranch a fine lot of blackberry bushes which are thriving well and are, at the present date, bearing luscious, ripe berries. The ranch is situated in what is known as the warm or thermal belt, and during all of the recent remarkably cold weather in that vicinity, frost has not visited it to a sufficient extent to injure even the volunteer potatoes which are growing in profusion on the place. At a distance of a mile either above or below the ranch the weather of late has been severely cold, forming ice of considerable thickness and blighting growing crops."—San Jose (Cal.) Mercury.

The "Solid South" Policy Unwise.

J. G. Holland in Midwinter Scribner.

When the South became "solid" in its attempt to destroy the Union, the North became "solid" in its defense. The first gun fired upon the national flag was the signal for Northern consolidation. It could not have been otherwise, in the nature of things. If a sectional reason had arisen for the destruction of the Government, a sectional reason would instantly spring into being for its preservation, which would wipe out, or hold in abeyance, all party affiliations. The solid South produced the solid North, and what it did then, it will always do. There is not the slightest use in quarreling with the fact, for men are not responsible for it. It simply cannot be helped; and if the South ever hopes to be the power in national politics that she was in the old days, every man within her borders must be free, and the attempt to force her constituents into solidity must be abandoned as most unwise, and, sectionally, suicidal. It will always be enough that the South is solid, under political pressure, to make it impossible for its friends to assist it in its policy, whatever it may be.

THEY have a way of running a political campaign down in Kentucky which, to say the least, partakes largely of a social and festive character. For instance, one Underwood, now Lieutenant-Governor of the State, who aspires to the first place in the gift of Kentuckians, and has been chosen (by himself) as the standard-bearer of one of the factions of the Democratic party, is always accompanied by his fiddle in his electioneering tours, and sandwiches his speeches with bewitching strains from his favorite catgut, or seeking a substitute to preside at the violin, disports himself in terpsichorean diversions to the lascivious notes of the instrument aforesaid. It is said that this style of argument is exceedingly popular with the average Kentucky barbarian, and is making many converts where the cut-and-dried and stereotyped speeches setting forth the sacrifices made for the Confederacy fail to command, even the attention of the crowd.

THE CHEYENNE INDIANS.

END OF THEIR REBELLION.

How they were "Quited."

CRIMINAL INTELLIGENCE.

FORT ROBINSON, Nev., Jan. 22.—The Cheyenne Indian campaign has closed for time at least. On Monday Col. Evans, with Companies B and D, 3d Cavalry, found the renegades in a strong position in the cliffs four miles north of the stage road, and partially succeeded in cutting off their progress. They effected their usual escape and moved towards the Red Cloud Agency. Capt. Wessels, whose scouts conveyed this news to him, started at once on their trail with his four companies of cavalry, and at noon to-day he came up to them some forty-five miles from this post. Then the work of capturing them, either dead or alive, began in dead earnest. In fact but thirty-two, with nine of that number badly wounded, are alive of the forty-nine fugitives that were in the field, leaving seventeen killed. Capt. Wessels was slightly wounded. The First Sergeant of Company E and an Indian scout are also wounded to an unknown extent. Three of Wessels' command, a sergeant, a farrier and one private, were killed. This news arrived verbally by courier at midnight, and more couriers, with details of the battle, are expected soon. Ambulances have just started at midnight to bring in the dead and wounded.

Later news from the field stated that only nine Cheyennes, all of them wounded, were captured. The balance of the party, twenty-three in number, were killed. Seventeen are still unaccounted for. It is supposed some died from wounds and others escaped.

VAN BUREN, ARK., Jan. 22.—A little wholesome administration of the law in Scott county during the past year having driven a number of desperadoes from the county and somewhat quieted the spirit of outlawry reigning rampant there, a few of the bloods still residing in the county have sought other fields in which to vent their turbulent spirits. The little town of Salem, in Sebastain county, a few miles from the Scott county line, has of late been the rendezvous of a number of these turbulent characters, where they have sated their appetite for Arkansas corn-juice, overawed the timid inhabitants by day and made night hideous with their demoniac yells. A few days ago one of these young bloods was arrested at Salem for disturbing the peace and carrying concealed weapons. He gave bond for his appearance before the town magistrate for trial on yesterday. When the hour for trial arrived, he made his appearance, accompanied by seven or eight of his boon companions, all armed with revolvers and saturated with the necessary amount of forty-rod whisky. During the progress of the trial some of the party drew their revolvers, and made an assault on Tony Nies, one of the town officials. An attempt was then made to arrest the offending parties, but they resisted and a general fight followed, in which one of the Scott county men named Hawthorn was shot down and instantly killed, two others being severely wounded. The remainder of the boys mounted their horses and left town before any further arrests could be made. Officers and citizens followed the party to Dayton, a little town three miles distant, where they came upon them again, and further resistance being made another fight ensued, in which two of the party were captured, not, however, until one was badly wounded.

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 22.—The Young People's Literary Society of Deerfield, near Lebanon, O., have been troubled by a lot of roughs congregating in the vicinity of some weeks past. Last Saturday the Society stationed a guard at the door. The roughs attempted to force an entrance, when the guard promptly drew their knives and commenced work in earnest. One man named Fairchild was cut seven times in the head and shoulders and carried away on a shutter. He is thought to be mortally wounded. The rest of the gang fled. No arrests have been made.

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 22.—Mrs. Daniel Dobbins died here to-day, in her 100th year. She was living in Erie when Commodore Perry fitted out his fleet that whipped the British at Put-in-Bay, in the war of 1812. Mrs. Dobbins, whose husband helped equip the fleet, was well acquainted with Perry and his officers. Lafayette was a guest at her house when he visited Erie in 1823. Her mental vigor was remarkable for one of her extreme age, and she retained a vivid recollection of the east up to a short time previous to her death.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 22.—The Courier-Journal's special from Riverton, Ky., says Solomon Johnson, a young school teacher, was brutally murdered near Robinson's Creek, in Pike county, to-day, by James Bentley, who, failing to invite him into a quarrel, smashed his skull with a heavy club. Bentley escaped. A large number of country people were on his track, and it is thought that he will be lynched if captured.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 22.—Both houses of the Legislature met in joint convention at 12 o'clock, noon, Lieutenant Governor Bingham presiding. There was a very large attendance of people from all sections of the State. The galleries, the floor, and the lobbies were packed. After the usual preliminaries, the official ballot for a United States Senator was taken, with the following result: Carpenter 84; Ryan 28; Bouck 13.

M. H. Carpenter was declared elected, and, he being waited upon by a committee, soon appeared before the convention and made a short speech. He thanked the convention for the honor conferred, promising close and hard work in the Republican cause, congratulating the country on the resumption of specie, and promising to resign his trust whenever the Legislature declared him to have violated it.

E. W. Keyes, on being called on, made a few remarks and cordially indorsed the work of the convention.

Chief Justice Ryan replied to repeated calls to him in a few remarks of a humorous character.

The convention adjourned, and the Senators repaired to their chambers.

THE Irish World evidently believes that Grant is bound to be the Republican candidate for the Presidency in 1880, and that he will be elected. It certainly would not waste so much ammunition on a candidate whom it did not fear. The Irish World has a perfect right to oppose Grant with all its might, but it ought not to create a feeling among its readers that Grant should be assassinated in case he is elected President, as it certainly is doing by its foolish predictions of what will happen within the next five years.—Bloomington Leader.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—A verdict was given to-day in the United States Circuit Court against the Illinois and St. Louis Bridge Company for $265,000, on notes given the Keystone Bridge Company, of Pittsburgh, for construction.

MR. CARY, the great greenback advocate, since the resumption of specie payments, has turned his attention from politics, and resumed his old business, that of a temperance lecturer. Whatever may be said of Gen. Cary, politically, he is as an advocate of the temperance question one of the strongest, if not the strongest man in the nation. As an orator, he is the equal of John B. Gough, and few men have done more to arouse the people of this country to a sense of the magnitude of the evils of intemperance than Samuel F. Cary.

LIVER IS KING.

The liver is the imperial organ of the whole human system, as it controls the life, health and happiness of man. When it is disturbed in its proper action, all kinds of ailments are the natural result. The digestion of food, the movements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the Liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in curing all persons afflicted with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint, and all the numerous symptoms that result from an unhealthy condition of the Liver and Stomach. THE GOLDEN AGE.

Fiftieth Anniversary of the Marriage of Milburn Glore and Sallie Clark.

Four Generations, with a Happy Assembly of Friends, Celebrate the Event in a Fitting Manner.

"Fifty years have bloomed and faded,
Yet while they their circles move,
Smiling infants sprang around us,
Scions from our tree of love;
And with patriarchal pleasure
Still another race we view,
And in their unfolding promise
Seem to live our lives anew."

Such must have been the silent thoughts of Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Glore last night, as they looked upon their children, their children's children, and even those of the fourth generation, all of whom in their own peculiar and happy manner vied with each other in celebrating the 50th anniversary of the marriage of the aged couple. And in this connection it will not be inappropriate to disturb the pages of the sacred family Bible and lay before our readers the following interesting chronological review of the Glore family, with a few slight additions:

Milburn Glore was born in Boone county, Ky., August 13th, 1807, and is now nearly 72 years of age. Miss Sallie Clark was born in Jefferson county, Ky., October 29th, 1810, and is now over 68 years of age. January 22, 1829, at the residence of the bride's parents in Oldham county, Ky., Milburn Glore and Miss Sallie Clark were united in marriage, each having united with the Christian church some years previously. After a residence of 26 years in Kentucky, Mr. and Mrs. Glore imbibed the western fever and emigrated to this city, and have occupied their present residence since 1855.

Eleven children were given to them, one of whom died when an infant. The surviving children are Zeralda, wife of Captain W. E. Bingham, residing in this city; Amy, wife of Andrew Hill; Alice, wife of Librarian R. L. Evans; Melissa, wife of Edward B. Moore; and Miss Ella Glore, the youngest daughter, residing with her parents. Of the sons five are living Norb. S. Glore, proprietor of the Broadway Hotel, Louisville, Ky.; James H. Glore, farmer, residing southeast of the city, in war times Captain of Co. K., 116th Ill. Vol.; "Wash" W. Glore, of the book and stationery house of W. Scott Glore, bookseller and stationer, Louisville, Ky.; Alonzo M. Glore, deputy clerk of the county clerk's office, Louisville, Ky. The aged couple count among their progenitors 19 grand children and five great grand children. The oldest son, "Norb," is 49 years of age, and the youngest, "Lon," past 27.

Not all of the above named descendants were gathered at the reunion last night, but those absent sent in their regrets.

Soon after seven o'clock the invited friends of the family began to assemble at the residence, corner of North Church and Cerro Gordo streets, and were received with royal good cheer by the bride and groom and their children. The parlor was very beautifully hung with loops of smilax, brought from Louisville, Ky., and suspended from the ceiling appeared a mammoth marriage bell of flowers, also from Louisville, and a hanging basket of ivy which hung from the center of the room—the whole producing an effect at once pretty and striking. The other rooms were also appropriately decorated in honor of the occasion. Of the congratulations that were offered, the stories that were told, the "cute" things that were said, and all kindred incidents that go to make such an occasion one never to be forgotten, we leave to the imagination of the reader, and pay our attention to the "Golden Wedding" banquet, which was elegant and sumptuous in every respect. The coffee was made by Mrs. Glore herself, and few can make as good, none better. While the guests were seated at the tables, discussing the substantials and delicacies set before them, the Decatur Band, which had quietly stationed itself on the outside, struck up a lively serenade, creating a little sensation among the company, and adding greatly to the pleasures of the evening. The musicians were invited indoors and hospitably entertained, after which the band gave a parting air.

After supper the company mingled together and passed the remaining hours in social conversation, and did not separate for home until the hands of the clock had pointed to the hour of midnight. Good-bys were then reluctantly spoken, and Mr. and Mrs. Glore were left alone with their children. Alone, but happy still, in the blessed enjoyment of priceless health, possessing the buoyant spirits of their more youthful companions, bidding fair to be spared many years to enjoy the society of their offspring and wide circle of friends.

"Calmly then, our days brief remnant
Will we pass in hope and love,
Waiting till the summons issues
From our Father's court above.
With our lamps well trimmed and burning,
And our pilgrim staff in hand,
Joyful, onward, will we journey
To the brighter, better land."

Following we give a partial list of the more intimate friends of the family present: John R. Miller, Judge Nelson, W. R. Scruggs and lady, Elder N. S. Haynes and lady, J. B. Shellabarger and lady, B. O. McReynolds and lady, Elder John W. Tyler and lady, John Ullrich and lady, Wm. Cantrill and lady, Silas Packard and lady, Joseph Mills and lady and Jacob Miller. Letters regretting their inability to attend on account of sickness and business engagements, were received from Joseph Gates and wife, Wm. L. Hammer and wife, W. W. Foster and wife, B. Stine, Mrs. James Shoaff, Paris, Ill., and others.

The presents were mostly of gold coin, though Mr. Glore received a gold-headed cane and gold spectacles, while Mrs. Glore was remembered with a beautifully-wrought gold breast-pin, inscribed as follows: "1829—G—1879," and silver napkin rings, and silver knives and forks. The total amount in dollars and cents will probably foot up $500.

One of the enjoyable incidents of the occasion was the the presentation of of a "gold" stem-winding watch, presented by Judge W. E. Nelson in his own inimitable style. The surprise of, "Pappy" Glore on discovering that it was only a dumb trinket, can better be imagined than described.

Among the relics was an ancient rocking-chair, that has been in the family 50 years, and was pointed to with pardonable pride by Mrs. Glore and her children, and close by was a child's rocking-chair, which had been handed down from the Clark family for over 80 years.

A FLAME.

An Incendiariy's Work—The Oil Can Left on the Premises.

This morning about two o'clock an alarm of fire aroused the firemen from their slumbers, and as usual they rallied to the rescue. A rising smoke and a bright light in the north part of the city indicated the location of the fire, and upon arriving at the spot it was found that the large two-story house at the corner of North Church and Marietta streets, near the show ground, was on fire. The house belongs to Collector W. W. Foster, and had been without a tenant for sometime. The flames, on the arrival of the firemen, were found to be confined to the upper story, and by their prompt and efficient efforts in throwing water the damage was confined to the upper rooms. The roof and ceilings were badly charred, and the partitions of the chambers were more or less damaged. After the flames were extinguished a new coal oil can was found in one of the upper rooms, indicating clearly that the fire was the work of an incendiary, and that it had been deliberately planned in advance. The house is a large one, and though somewhat out of repair inside, was a substantial structure, having a good frame, and well covered.

The damage to the house will not exceed five hundred dollars, and is mostly, if not fully, covered by insurance. Efforts will be made to detect the malicious person or persons who applied the torch, doubtless with the expectation that the house would be reduced to ashes.

THE YOUNG LADIES' ENTERTAINMENT LAST NIGHT.—A large, fashionable and intelligent audience gathered at the tabernacle last evening on the occasion of the Potter-Millikin entertainment, given under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Reform Club.

Briefly, Miss Potter is a finished reader, possessing a wonderful degree of dramatic power, and a good pair of lungs. Her stage presence is very good, but like all readers familiar with the rostrum, her manner at times is rather unpleasantly eccentric. Her personations were well rendered, especially that of John B. Gough and the Roman Mother.

Miss Dollie Millikin, our celebrated pianist, was received with rounds of rapturous applause, which was increased four fold when she left the piano, her delighted audience insisting on an encore, when the young lady played a beautiful piece in a lovely manner. Miss Millikin's charming performances last evening have again endeared her to our people, who never fail to speak of her accomplishments as a pianist in the most flattering terms. The hearty encores she received were all well deserved tributes and amounted almost to an ovation.

It was announced at the close of the performance that the club had engaged Mlle. Litta (Marie Von Elsner), who would appear at the tabernacle in the near future. This announcement was received with loud applause.

DEAD.—Joseph Allen, the brakeman on the P., L. and D. road, who was injured at Pekin yesterday morning by falling with his leg across the track so that the cars passed over the limb, died from his injuries at Pekin last night. Mr. Allen was well known to many in Decatur, by whom his untimely death will be deeply deplored. He leaves a widow to mourn his loss.

IRISH COMEDY.—To-morrow evening the celebrated Irish comedian, John T. Hinds, will appear at the opera house in "Shaughaun," supported by a Dublin dramatic company of rare ability. As a delineator of Irish character and Irish peculiarities Mr. Hinds has no superior, if indeed he has a peer. The company takes its own scenery, which is adapted to the play, along with them. Let everybody go and laugh and grow fat.

GEN. SAM CAREY AT THE TABERNACLE—Gen. Sam Carey is to speak on temperance at the tabernacle this evening. Mr. Carey has the reputation of being one of the finest orators in America. Let there be a grand rally to hear him.

THE BERGER FAMILY.—Among the entertainments to be placed upon the boards in Decatur this season none will excel the one to be given by this popular troupe on Monday evening next. Among the many flattering testimonials from the press we find the following from the San Francisco Daily Call:

> Last night the Bergers and Sol Smith Russell closed their most successful engagement. Coming here with the intention of staying but two weeks, the appreciation which their entertainments met with fully warranted the lengthening of their stay to five, and we may say their entertainment fully warranted the appreciation. Seldom have we seen any single artist win the attention and excite innocent laughter with pure humor as Mr. Russell has done. His sketches have been studies, and as studies have been of the most admirable order. Miss Anna Teresa Berger, besides being a most charming little body in appearance, is the cleverest cornet-soloist who has appeared here since Levy. These are the stars of the company, and the remainder are only lesser by comparison.

STEAK FROM A BIG HOG.—J. G. Dix, of Maroa, slaughtered a hog yesterday which weighed, after being dressed, 1,001 pounds. We are indebted to Mr. Dix for a sample of the steak from this porker, and we pronounce it excellent

REVIVAL MEETINGS.

FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

The attendance at this church was large last night and the interest unabated.—After a brief discourse by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Goodwin, a season of prayer was held in which the members took an active and earnest part. Several persons presented themselves as subjects of prayer, and others who did not take this step seemed to be deeply moved by the sermon and the prayers which followed. Preaching again this evening at 7 o'clock. to be followed by the usual season of prayer.

U. B. CHURCH.

The services at this church last evening were attended by an increased congregation, and in point of interest were fully equal to any of those held on any previous evening. The sermon by the pastor was earnest and instructive and could hardly fail to move those who heard it to right purposes and right living.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN, as originally revived by Gotthold & Real, will be presented at the opera house on Wednesday evening, Jan. 29th, representing a thrilling picture of the Ohio river in mid-winter; the great steamboat scene where Uncle Tom rescues Eva from drowning; Jubilee Singers in the plantation scene, introducing a genuine trained darkey; death of Uncle Tom, and apotheosis of Little Eva; concluding with a grand transformation illustrating the picture of "The Beautiful Gates Ajar," a marvel of scenic art—copy right secured of the proprietors by the managers of this company. The company carries its own scenery, and the party includes a powerful Shakespearean cast of 28 people, who have appeared before critical audiences in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, and other cities of like importance.

John H. Brayton came in from Chicago to-day. He has organized six temperance unions in the Garden City.

Gen. Sam Carey, of Ohio, is registered at the Priest House, and will speak on temperance at the tabernacle to-night.

Mr. C. A. Jamison, of Peoria, with Kingman & Co., of that city, who are extensive dealers in agricultural implements, called at the REPUBLICAN office this morning. Mr. Jamison is a son of W. W. Jamison, of this town, and will be remembered by many of our readers as living here in his boyhood days.

Concerning Cinderella's Glass Slipper.

It is curious to learn that the "glass slipper" in "Cinderella," of which from our youth upwards we never questioned the authenticity, though well aware that no one who was not a protege of fairies would think of dancing in such an article, was not part of the original story, but has been due to a misunderstanding of a word used in the French version of the tale. The slipper, we have been told by a writer in the London Sunday Times, supported by "Littre's Dictionary," was originally a slipper trimmed with a particular kind of rare fur, called in French Vair—the fur of a creature of the weasel kind. But this fur not being known to ordinary French story-tellers, they spoke of a pantoufle de verre—a glass slipper—by a sort of unconscious pun. Certainly the new reading is far more creditable to the sagacity of Cinderella's godmother as a purveyor of comfortable clothes; for whatever magic power the glass slippers might have had of surviving a dance, it is impossible that they could have been comfortable to the feet, and must have resulted in all probability in serious corns.

"EVERY man should provide liberally for his family," says Mr. Smith. "Ever since my marriage I have kept my wife provided with a sewing-machine, surmounted by a fine mirror." "What is that mirror for?" inquired a party present. "Well," said the oracle, "I tell her that when she gets so lazy that she can't run the machine she can sit still and see herself starve to death."

The Professional Indorsement which has been accorded by leading medical men in various parts of the country to DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, is a suffilent guaranty of its efficacy in eradicating diseases of the breathing organs. These gentlemen have thoroughly tested the remedy, and their concurrent testimony is to the effect that it is a positive specific for lung, bronchial and throat affections of every description, and a most reliable preventive of that dreaded scourge, consumption. TUTT'S PILLS!

A NOTED DIVINE SAYS

THEY ARE WORTH THEIR

WEIGHT in GOLD

READ WHAT HE SAYS:

DR. TUTT:—Dear Sir: For ten years I have been a martyr to Dyspepsia, Constipation and Piles. Last Spring your Pills were recommended to me; I used them (but with little faith). I am now a well man, have good appetite, digestion perfect, regular stools, piles gone, and I have gained forty pounds solid flesh. They are worth their weight in gold.
REV. R. L. SIMPSON, Louisville, Ky

is the fruitful source of many diseases, such as Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Dysentery, Bilious Fever, Ague and Fever, Jaundice, Piles, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, Colic, etc.

Tutt's Pills exert a powerful influence on the Liver, and will with certainty relieve that important organ from disease, and restore its normal functions.

The rapidity with which persons take on flesh, while under the influence of these pills, of itself indicates their adaptability to nourish the body, hence their efficacy in curing nervous debility, dyspepsia, wasting of the muscles, sluggishness of the liver, chronic constipation, and imparting health and strength to the system.

CONSTIPATION.

Only with regularity of the bowels can perfect health be enjoyed. When the constipation is of recent date, a single dose of TUTT'S PILLS will suffice, but if it has become habitual, one pill should be taken every night, gradually lessening the frequency of the dose until a regular daily movement is obtained, which will soon follow.

WHAT THE GENERAL SAID!

A noted General being asked by some of his friends how he liked Texas, replied "If I was obliged to choose between Hell and Texas, I would choose the former." The above saying is verified every day by parties moving from the North, East and South, and as they cannot decide exactly as to the existence of the former, they certainly avoid Texas, and like sensible, industrious people, seek a productive country, such as Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska and the Far West. Reader, are you contemplating a trip to such a country on business or pleasure? If so, select the line having the least change of cars and best accommodations. The Old Reliable Hannibal & St. Joseph R. R. (the Pioneer line west of the Mississippi River) offers you through Day Coaches and Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars from Chicago, Ills., Toledo, Ohio, and Indianapolis, Indiana, to the Missouri River without change. Tourist and land-seeker's round trip excursion tickets on sale by this popular route at all Eastern Ticket Offices.
